

Dr. Chieko Ikeda

Director General, Bureau of International Health Cooperation,
National Center for Global Health and Medicine

Profile:

Dr IKEDA has been Director General, Bureau of International Health Cooperation, National Center for Global Health and Medicine since September 2021. She has been engaged in public health for 30 years since she first joined the MHLW. From 2017 to 2019, She served MHLW as Senior Assistant Minister for Global Health.

From 1999 to 2003, She led the technology transfer program at Western Pacific Regional Office of the World Health Organization(WPRO) and activities in Southeast Asia and Pacific region at the Joint United Nations Program on HIV/AIDS(UNAIDS).

She graduated Tsukuba University with a degree on medicine and holds master degrees in public health and science from Harvard Public Health School.